

Making of Paper Is Big State Asset

By LEN TALIAFERRO
Associated Press Writer

When a housewife lifts a milk carton from her grocer's dairy counter, her husband reads the evening paper and the whole family eats from paper plates on a picnic, a major Arkansas industry—the production of paper—is bolstered.

Three Arkansas firms begin their operations in the forests and end with the production of the finished paper product.

The Southern Paperwood Conservation Association, in its latest report, said that the Arkansas paper industry produced $1,144,000 and a total payroll of almost $35 million in 1962.

This payroll is of major importance to Pine Bluff, Crossett and Camden where the three paper producing firms in the state have plants.

In addition, the firms, International Paper Co., Georgia-Pacific Corp., and Dierks Paper Co., have forestry operations throughout the state.

Paper production begins in the state's forests where, for the most part, independent contractors harvest the trees. These trees are chipped into pulpwood which is then ground into the fiber that eventually becomes paper.

The SPCA says that Arkansas has 20,757,000 acres of commercial forests, 1,500,900 of which are held by the paper companies.

The producing firms frequently lease their land to the contractors who harvest the timber, then sell it to the paper companies.

Contractors throughout the state turn over to the paper companies in Arkansas, 1,729,800 cords of pulpwood annually, for a fee of almost $3 million, according to the SPCA. Of this number, only 370,000 cords are harvested in company forests.

The remainder comes from land owned by other agents, many of which are private landowners who have small timber tracts.

The money paid for this timber and its harvest goes directly into the state's economy.

Arkansas plants convert a sizeable portion of the paper into bags, milk cartons, toilet and facial tissue. The remainder is shipped out of the state to other conversion plants.

The size of the industry in Arkansas is now shown by the three plants. Its major aspect is the many operations completed from the field to finished product, each representing an economic kernel of payrolls and purchases.

The paper industry is a growing one in Arkansas.

Dierks' Multiwall Bag Division has been in operation less than a year. International's Bag-Pac plant at Camden is a recent addition to its operation, and Georgia-Pacific began its tissue production last Sunday.

Spokesmen for all three firms said they see room for more expansion in the state.

There also are side benefits that Arkansans receive from the industry.

The industry, because of the necessity of a readily available supply of timber, is highly conservation conscious.

Well tended timber lands provide excellent cover for game. Most of the state's industry-owned timberland is open to hunting.

Because of the large amounts of water necessary in producing paper, the plants also maintain reservoirs. Most are stocked with fish and are open to the public.

Payout Is 200 Million, 6 Mos.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Treasurer Nancy Hall reported Thursday that her office handled $200,457,598 during the six months ended Dec. 31, compared to $157,148,325 in the same period in 1962.

She said the funds included $74,930,513 in federal funds, up about $22.9 million from last year, and $56,277,429 in state revenues, up about $4.5 million from last year.

The rest was in trust funds, special accounts and non-revenue income, she said.

Reunion: Emmet Seniors of 40 Years Ago

This is the time of year when everyone is similar to the ancient god, Janus, who looked two ways at once. We, too, review the past and look toward the future, and no better example of this could be found than last Saturday night in Emmet when high school seniors of 40 years ago gathered for a reunion.

Also appearing here is a picture taken at the reunion, which was attended by 10 of the class of 15. Rosalia Arnett of Compton, Calif., came the farthest distance, and three of the class members still live at Emmet so they didn't have to leave home to attend. They are Lolita Hood Arnett, Minnie Thompson Gilbert, and Ella Beatty Adkins.

The table was decorated with the class colors, purple and gold, and Mrs. Adkins had made souvenir booklets for each one that contained a small picture of the graduation class, the class roll, and the class motto, "We build the ladder by which we climb." A bouquet of white roses, the class flower, was also used on the serving table.

The reunion was held at the "Chuck Wagon" in Emmet. The former associate principal, Mrs. Vivian Rudd Edwards of Lewisville, was accompanied to the gala gathering by her sister, Mrs. Walker. A cake decorated with yellow roses and a small diploma tied with a purple ribbon also bore the words, "Congratulations Class of 1924."

Mr. K. Peace Plan Likely Propaganda

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Diplomatic Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev grabbed a world wide propaganda initiative today with publication of his proposal for a global guarantee of international frontiers.

The first reaction in official Washington was cautious, cool, and skeptical.

Diplomats said that Khrushchev, by moving swiftly, had clearly stolen a march on President Johnson in their parallel peace offensives. Administration officials questioned whether the proposal was put forth primarily as a peace gesture rather than for serious diplomatic negotiations.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk ordered a careful analysis of the lengthy document, which reached here Thursday as a personal note from Khrushchev to Johnson. It was forward to Johnson at his Texas ranch Thursday night.

There was no immediate comment from the holiday White House at Johnson City, Tex.

Basically, Khrushchev's message proposed a four-point international agreement denouncing the use of force in settling territorial and frontier issues.

State Department officials said after a preliminary survey that the Khrushchev proposal contains many argumentative elements which the United States will, of course, have to reject. But they added that it would be studied for possible constructive provisions "on which we might be able to build something."

Khrushchev's round-robin proposition went to many leaders other than Johnson. The sweeping guarantee of all state frontiers which he proposed for example, could freeze in treaty form U.S. acceptance of a Communist Cuba and give the Reds a new legal weapon to use against hit-run attacks with any kind of U.S. connection.

Yet in respect to Formosa Khrushchev made an exception, treating it in accord with the Red Chinese line that Formosa is not international territory but an area which belongs to China. The United States, taking an opposite view, has demanded for years that Red China renounce the use of force in its claim on Formosa.

Democratic VP May Be Kennedy Kin

By FRANK CORMIER

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey topped the balloting, but results of a nation poll of Democratic county chairman heightened speculation that President Johnson's running mate may be someone closely identified with John F. Kennedy.

More specifically, several Johnson aides suggested today that the results added up to a plus for the potential candidacy of Sargent Shriver, Peace Corps director and brother-in-law of the assassinated president.

The poll, conducted by The Associated Press, turned up notable support for both Shriver and Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy as among the party's best choices for the November vice presidential nomination.

Humphrey, a Minnesota who is assistant Senate Democratic leader, paced the balloting with 185 votes.

He said "I am honored and flattered by the national poll. It is always gratifying to have friendly consideration by your fellow Americans. The decision for vice president however, will be made by the Democratic convention, which I am confident will respect the wishes in this matter of President Johnson."

Robert Kennedy, a close second with 166 votes, declined comment.

Shriver ranked fifth with 43 votes, trailing Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson and Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York — both regarded as dark horse possibilities.

Some politically oriented Johnson associates said they were struck by the combined strength of Robert Kennedy and Shriver, as well as the scattering of votes for Sen. Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy of Massachusetts, youngest brother of the late president, and for Mrs. John F. Kennedy.

Being an Umpire Can Save Convict

VACAVILLE, Calif. (AP) — If a convict can survive as a Little League umpire, he has a good chance of readjusting to society.

That's the thinking behind a program at the California Department of Corrections facility here, which is experimenting with a one-year program to prepare convicted violent criminals for parole by testing them in a variety of demanding and stressful jobs.

Umpiring Little League games is part of the stress. "There's nothing tougher," says program director Werner J. Einstadter. "A Little League umpire hasn't got a friend, no matter what decision he makes. He can't win either way."

Unless he holds his temper and wins parole.

Further Cut on Planting Cotton Due

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Johnson administration is expected to broaden its cotton legislative recommendations to include plans for further reducing production as well as making the price of the crop more fully competitive in domestic fiber markets.

An Agriculture Department spokesman outlined Thursday a proposed voluntary acreage diversion program designed to cut cotton production this year and next below market needs and thereby make room in the market for the large surplus stocks.

Under this plan, growers would be paid $40 to $50 an acre on a national average basis for underplanting their cotton allotments. This is similar to an acreage diversion program now in use for reducing grain surpluses.

Under recommendations of the Kennedy administration, Congress started work last session on legislation to eliminate a price advantage foreign buyers of U.S. cotton have over domestic buyers. Foreign buyers get the benefit of an export subsidy.

The Johnson administration will continue to press for legislation to meet this price problem.

The department spokesman said, however, that the greatest need is for legislation to get control of an excessive buildup in surplus cotton stocks.

The present cotton control program does not permit national planting allotments to be less than 16 million acres. This allotment has been producing too much. As a consequence, reserve and surplus supplies have become the largest since 1956 and nearly double the reserves needed.

The proposed acreage diversion plan met immediate resistance. A spokesman said the American Farm Bureau Federation would oppose it.

Under the cotton diversion plan, farmers who chose to participate would have to idle at least 20 per cent of their allotments. They could not divert more than 50 per cent of farms with allotments of 15 acres or less — about 70 per cent of the cotton farms — could divert their entire allotment under the payment plan.

Payments on the diverted acres would be around 10.5 cents a pound on their normal yield of cotton. Funds would be obtained from sale of surplus government cotton. Officials figure the plan would cut this year's prospective crop of 13.8 million bales to 10.8 million. Surpluses would be sold to help fill demands.

Officials estimated such a program would cut costs of government cotton programs at least $200 million a year. This year's cotton program will cost about $728 million.

13,600 Cars Abandoned in Cities

NEW YORK (AP) — The problem: What to do with old automobiles abandoned in city streets. There were 13,600 last year.

One solution: Dump them in the Atlantic Ocean off Long Island where they'd make homes for fish — as wrecks do — and perhaps improve the fishing.

Commissioner Frank J. LaCia of the Department of Sanitation said Thursday his idea may get serious consideration unless the price of scrap increases. Junk cars bring $5 each, C.O.D.

LBJ Demands Action for the Unemployed

By FRANK CORMIER

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson's demand for new thinking in devising solutions to the nagging unemployment problem has produced a hint of possible action that could affect virtually every American worker.

After conferring with Johnson at the LBJ Ranch Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz suggested to newsmen it might be wise to study the present time-and-a-half pay rate for overtime work.

If the rate were raised Wirtz said employers might be encouraged to eliminate overtime chores and hire additional workers.

He said elimination of overtime would open up the equivalent of 919,000 full-time jobs.

Wirtz' suggestion came three days after a Johnson aide had told newsmen the President wanted new thinking on possible ways to cope with persistent unemployment troubles.

Johnson indicated Friday he is trying hard to keep his new budget for the 1965 fiscal year that begins July 1, below $100 billion. He even said it might wind up one or two percentage points below that level.

A cut of two per cent from $100 billion would yield a spending blue-print of $98 billion, or less than the record-breaking budget of $98.8 billion submitted to Congress a year ago by the late President John F. Kennedy.

However, it seemed unlikely that Johnson could avoid a budget bigger than ever.

The President, holding an impromptu news conference on the front porch of his ranch home, said the budget "will hover above or below $100 billion; it might be off a small percentage."

And he reported that he had sliced several hundred million dollars each from the spending requests of the Agriculture Department, the Atomic Energy Commission and the space agency.

But he didn't say whether he was cutting these programs below current totals or simply reducing requests that traditionally exceed going levels.

He did state there will be no pullback from the commitment to put an American on the moon by 1970, a project that could cost as much as $40 billion.

Construction Strike Talks to Continue

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Union officials and contractors scheduled another meeting today to negotiate contracts for some 925 employees who walked off from some 35 Central Arkansas construction jobs Thursday.

Work has not been halted at the projects, but hampered by the loss of ironworkers and carpenters.

Negotiations between Iron Workers Local 321 and officials of the Arkansas Chapter of the Associated General Contractors failed Thursday.

The AGC officials were to meet today with representatives of Carpenters Local 690 and another meeting with the ironworkers also was possible.

The dispute is over wage provisions in a proposed new contract between the AGC and five unions, but three of the unions have not taken part in the walk-out. The old contracts ended Tuesday night.

The other unions are Cement Finishers Local 270, Bricklayers Local 1 and Local 382 of the International Union of Operating Engineers.

The AGC offered the ironworkers a 30 cents an hour raise between last Jan. 1 and Jan. 2, 1965.

The ironworkers rejected the offer, saying they want a 45 cents an hour raise between last Jan. 1 and Jan. 1, 1966.

Negotiations with the other unions also are under way.

Blackface in Parade Still Is Disputed

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Leaders of the Mummers, civil rights groups and the city seek today to resolve a controversy that threatened to flare into a demonstration before weather forced postponement of the traditional New Year's Day parade.

Mummers leaders, fearing the snow, ice and sleet would damage the flashy costumes, postponed the parade until Saturday.

Civil rights groups oppose use of blackface makeup by some marchers.

Despite the postponement, an informal group called the Second Streeters marched briefly and many wore blackface. There were no incidents and the Second Streeters said they would march again Saturday.

Magistrate Elias Myers, the parade director, banned use of blackface makeup this year, but rescinded the order after some clubs protested.

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and the Congress of Racial Equality then protested. The city said it would not award prizes to participants who wear blackface.

CORE and the Committee for Freedom Now threatened to physically block the parade unless blackface marchers are banned.

Johnson Digs Into Housing Problem, Too

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson dug into postal and housing problems Thursday and received promises that employment and red ink will be cut in the postal service without impairing it.

Nor is any further increase in postal rates contemplated at this point, beyond a $77-million boost for parcel post which the Interstate Commerce Commission already has been asked to approve.

Postmaster General John A. Gronouski and, later, Housing Administrator Robert C. Weaver flew from Washington to confer with Johnson at his LBJ Ranch in the Texas hill country.

The President, who reportedly wants to get an unrelenting offensive for peace under way in advance of the November elections, was on the receiving end Thursday of a round-robin Soviet note regarding peace prospects.

Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin delivered the 20-page note at the State Department in Washington for relay to the President. The message from Soviet Premier Khrushchev to Johnson was similar to those he sent other chiefs of state in Europe.

The President brought Weaver to the ranch to talk over a comprehensive housing program. For while Johnson says his watchword is economy, he also wants to apply some savings to unmet human needs.

Gronouski met with newsmen at an Austin, Tex., press center after conferring with Johnson. The postmaster general said he assured the President that in the next six months—the last half of the 1964 fiscal year—his department, the government's biggest employer of civilians, will lower its rolls by 5,000 workers to a total of 590,000.

Extended over a full year, he said, this reduction would save $30 million in payroll expenses.

But apparently it won't extend far into the 1965 fiscal year which starts next July 1.

Under questioning, the postmaster general said that in 1965 there is likely to be some increase in employment, "but very small." He explained that the volume of mail is expected to go up 2.8 per cent in that year, but with an increase in employment of nowhere near that much.

Gronouski predicted the postal deficit in the next fiscal year will be lowered by $100 million—from $650 million to $550 million, with a corresponding reduction in the drain on taxpayer pocketbooks.

But this cut will drop to only $23 million if the Interstate Commerce Commission rejects the $77-million increase requested for parcel post rates. Congress does not have to pass on this, as it does other postal fees.

CORE and the Committee for Freedom Now threatened to physically block the parade unless blackface marchers are banned.

Big Push for Peace Seen This Year

By FRANK CORMIER Associated Press Writer

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson is said to favor an unrelenting peace offensive in 1964.

A White House source reported that Johnson is determined to seek new breakthroughs on peace and does not think the United States can or should wait until after the November presidential balloting before pressing ahead in this area.

The source made available to newsmen Wednesday a summary of what was described as Johnson's views on a broad range of topics. Some of the material was provided on condition it not be made public until today.

Among key attitudes attributed to Johnson were these:

The President plans to propose a comprehensive housing program and will discuss this today at his ranch home with Administrator Robert C. Weaver of the Housing and Home Finance Agency.

Johnson expects Congress to pass a civil rights bill this year, as well as an $11 billion tax cut. He also would like to see passage of a program to provide medical insurance for the elderly.

Government officials will be expected to work hard and avoid the cocktail party circuit. Johnson is pleased with the results of his economy-in-government drive and believes the stage is set for further savings in the budget that will go to Congress in January 1965. He believes fiscal prudence is, in the informant's words, "no longer a rich man's issue."

The President has profound respect for Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and also is greatly impressed by Gen. Maxwell Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Earlier Wednesday Johnson told Soviet Premier Khrushchev in a message that the time for talking peace has passed and "1964 should be a year in which we take further steps toward that goal."

"In this spirit I shall strive for the further improvement of relations between our two countries," Johnson said in a reply to a New Year's message from Khrushchev and Soviet President Leonid Brezhnev.

The two Russian leaders had said in their personal message to Johnson that the old year saw "a significant improvement in the approach to the solutions of urgent international problems and in the development of Soviet-American relations."

They voiced hope that the new year "will be marked by further significant success."

Khrushchev Convivial on New Year's

By GEORGE SYVERTSEN

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev toasted in the new year today with an appeal for further lessening of cold war tensions in 1964. But at a convivial Kremlin reception, Khrushchev said his only difference with Communist China is on "how to bury capitalism."

Sitting next to a surprise guest, ex-Premier Nikolai Bulganin, who fell into disgrace after a Communist party power struggle in 1957, Khrushchev was in an expansive mood as he proposed 13 toasts.

His face clouded, however, when he recalled the demonstration in Red Square two weeks ago by several hundred African students protesting the alleged murder of a medical student from Ghana.

Warning the African students, Khrushchev said: "At home if they want to stand on their heads and shake their legs in the air, then they can do so if the government permits it. But we will not allow it."

"If they don't like it here, they can have their passports and we can give them a good send off."

The cheerful Soviet leader led the Kremlin gathering of 2,000 persons, including foreign diplomats and newsmen, after releasing texts of messages to President Johnson and Cuba's Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

Upon Johnson, he urged continued improvement in Soviet-American relations and a lessening of world tensions.

To Castro, he pledged to support Cuba in the event of an attack by "United States aggressive circles."

Khrushchev also took note that this is the fifth anniversary of the Cuban revolution. "The Soviet people fulfilling their internationalist duty, will continue to render all-round assistance to their Cuban brothers in their struggle for a new life," he added.

THE TWISTED SABER

A novel about BENEDICT ARNOLD by PHILIP VAIL

© 1963 by Philip Vail

Brig. Gen. Enoch Poor of New Hampshire wrote a letter to Benedict, begging him not to leave until the enemy had been met and beaten. Every general except Benjamin Lincoln signed the communication. Then the colonels unanimously added their names and a copy was sent, without comment, to Gates.

This testimonial of faith moved Benedict, and after his pride and conscience had fought silently for 24 hours, he agreed to stay. But Gates, taking no chances, formally relieved Benedict of command of the left wing and augmented division. He now assigned both posts to Lincoln.

British supplies were dwindling, the season was far advanced and finally, on Oct. 7, Burgoyne decided to assault the center of the American line which was located on a rocky hill known as Bemis Heights.

The battle began in late afternoon. Brig. Gen. Ebenezer Learned, whose brigade occupied the American center, held firm. Morgan and Dearborn occupied the breastworks on the right, and Poor, supported by several regiments of New York and New England militia, moved into prepared redoubts and trenches on the left. The two sides seemed evenly matched.

Benedict stood outside his tent, watching officers a few hundred feet away reporting to the calm, methodical Gates. He had no troops to command, he had not been granted permission to take part in the battle and he had never been so miserable.

Benedict's patience suddenly was exhausted. "No man will keep me in my tent today," he said to Colonel Livingston, his eyes glittering like those of a man who had gone mad.

The aides had anticipated his reaction, and Varick, who had ordered his general's mare saddled at the start of the battle, ran to the hitching post at the rear of the tent as soon as Benedict shouted, "Bring my horse!"

Gates and the members of his staff watched in consternation as Benedict and his aides mounted and galloped off through the woods. An officer was sent to halt them, but by the time he mounted and started off, they had disappeared.

Benedict, shouting and brandishing his sword over his head, rode toward the battle lines. His frenzy increased when he found Dearborn's and Morgan's regiments behind breastworks.

Recklessly exposing himself to British fire, he shouted, "Are you soldiers or old women?" The men cheered him. Morgan rode out from behind the cover of a screen of trees.

"Dan, there's only one direction for you to go. Forward!" Not waiting for a reply, Benedict vaulted his mare over the breastworks. Morgan followed, and the Virginia riflemen poured over the barricades.

Benedict, satisfied, galloped in the open toward the American center. The men of Learned's brigade and other New Englanders were holding the line there.

Baron von Riedesel's men could not be dislodged from the cluster of log cabins they occupied at the far side of the clearing. They were forced to halt in the open field, and Benedict added:

"We should like to hope that the coming year will see further and more substantial progress both in adjusting the key world problems and in bettering relations between our two countries for the sake of the Soviet and the American people and for a more lasting world peace."

Borgnine's Wedding Up to TV Cast

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Ernest Borgnine reports that his "McHale's Navy" buddies have his wedding to Ethel Merman all planned.

Borgnine returned to the television series this week after his surprise announcement in New York that he and Miss Merman will marry in July. He reported the cast's plans for the event:

"Joe Flynn will give the bride away, Billy Sands and Fuji (Yoshio Yoda) will be bridesmaids. Gavin McLeod will be the ring-bearer and Gary Vinson will stand outside the church and cry."

Ernie is naturally ebullient and since the engagement his spirits have soared.

"She's so vivacious, so marvelous, so well, I just get carried away when I think about her," he said.

His divorce from Mexican actress Katy Jurado isn't final until June, and there have been reports that he might seek quicker freedom.

"I don't think so," he said, "although Miss Katy Jurado has been very nice to offer to get a Mexican divorce to speed things up. Ethel and I are not in that much of a hurry."

"Both of us realize it's a wait, and we're prepared for it. She has commitments, such as a singing engagement at the Talk of the Town in London starting Feb. 18. I won't be finished with the TV series season until the end of March."

"We know we belong together and we're willing to make the best of it."

The romance was a cyclonic affair, befitting both their personalities. Ernie took another date to a Hollywood party a month ago and heard Miss Merman sing. His reaction: "Holy cow, she's fabulous!" He met her and told her so, also how much his daughter had liked her in "It's A Mad World."

A few days later the hosts of the party, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Shribman, asked Ernie if he would like to bring Miss Merman along on a dinner date. Would he?

They had four dates, then Ernie flew to New York the day after Christmas and popped the question at her apartment. Her reply: "I thought you'd never ask."

She is coming here this weekend, and they will make further plans. One matter seems settled: They will make their home here.

Greeks and Turks to Seek Peace

By ALEX EFTY

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Feuding Greek and Turkish Cypriots will join in a conference with Britain, Greece and Turkey in London late this month in an effort to end the bloodshed on Cyprus and preserve the island republic.

Archbishop Makarios, Greek Cypriot president of Cyprus, and Dr. Fazil Kutchuk, Turkish Cypriot vice president, agreed Thursday night to send representatives. Their decisions came after a day of intensive diplomatic activity by Britain's on-the-spot mediator, Commonwealth Secretary Duncan Sandys.

Sandys flew back to London for personal report to Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home and the British Cabinet.

"There will be problems and things may go wrong," Sandys told newsmen in London, "but I think the situation is under control."

He warned of the possibility of more fighting, saying, "there is a large number of irregulars who are not controlled by any of the people who will be sitting around the table."

Exact date of the conference has not been announced. After the opening session, a committee of Greek and Turkish Cypriot representatives will be formed to work with a British chairman on proposals for revising the Cypriot constitution and the treaties linking Britain, Greece and Turkey to the Mediterranean island.

Acceptance of the British proposal for a peace conference came 12 days after the outbreak of renewed fighting between Greek and Turkish Cypriots, who long have regarded each other with enmity.

SHE'S BORROWING MONEY TROUBLE

By Helen Worden Erskine

Dear Helen: I am an only "child" 50 years old and have been an invalid for 13 years. During all this time my husband has spent huge sums of money to give me the best hospital and medical care. My parents have 120 acres, a healthy bank account, plus a tavern which they recently purchased, yet they are bypassing us in their will for our two sons.

It seems I maddened them by suggesting they sell the tavern, use the money to live on and leave our boys a good name instead. Both sons have solid income. Their grandparents told them about their inheritances in an effort to keep them tied to their apron strings. It had the reverse effect.

I could be left a widow and badly need the money myself. Also my folks don't seem to realize that if I die first, my husband might collapse physically. As the rangers crossed the Saigon River, 30 miles north-west of the capital, they encountered only small arms' fire. It looked like a sure government victory over the Viet Cong.

Instead, the Communists sprung a trap, and for six hours threatened the rangers with annihilation. Four rangers were killed, 17 were wounded, including a U.S. sergeant, and 30 still ing a U.S. sergeant, and 30 still have not made it back to camp.

Only the Rangers' superb fighting ability and training in the same tactics used by the Viet Cong averted a disaster, U.S. military advisers said after the action on New Year's Eve.

Target of the surprise attack was a Viet Cong battalion in Binh Duong Province.

The rangers crossed the Saigon River without incident. When the Communists put up heavier resistance, the rangers counterattacked, forcing the guerrillas back and swarming over their foxholes and entrenchments.

But the retreat obviously was meant to draw in the advancing rangers. From dug-in positions, the guerrillas opened a barrage of fire on the rangers, who were outnumbered 2-1.

The rangers tried to encircle the Viet Cong but lacked enough men.

As the rangers retreated, a dozen mortars opened fire from across the river. The Communists had taken over the foxholes and trenches between the rangers and the river.

The unit fought on, moving back from trench to trench. When they finally reached the river, they were bombarded for three more hours.

After darkness, the battalion pushed into the brush and waited for another Viet Cong attack. The attack never came. The battalion finally recrossed the river but the battle showed the Communists were as formidable as ever as the jungle war entered its fifth year.

2 Boys Save Themselves From Ice

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Edwin H. Simon Jr., 5, chased his ball onto a frozen lake at Little Rock Air Force Base and fell through the ice Thursday.

Steven Sullivan, 18, son of a base officer, crawled out onto the ice, pulled Simon out of the water and sent him crawling to safety on the shore.

Then the ice broke with Sullivan and he was in the water 20 minutes hacking a path through the ice with his hands.

Both boys appeared none the worse for wear after the incident.

Sullivan is the son of Col. Charles Sullivan, vice commander of the 308th Strategic Missile Wing. Simon is the son of Lt. Col. Edwin H. Sullivan, commander of the 825th Headquarters Squadron at the base.

Jordan King to Welcome Pope's Visit

By DAVID LANCASHIRE

JERUSALEM, Jordan Sector (AP)—King Hussein says all Jordan awaits the Holy Land pilgrimage of Pope Paul VI with warmth, affection and enthusiasm and he hopes it will herald a new era in relations between Moslems and Christians.

"It is my earnest hope that two great faiths will take concrete steps with a view toward achieving this blessed, historic objective," the 27-year-old Moslem monarch told a crowded news conference Thursday.

Hussein saw no possibility, however, that the Roman Catholic pontiff's visit could better relations between Arab nations and Israel, the Jewish state that is, like Jordan, a keeper of Christian shrines.

The king addressed about 400 newsmen in a movie theater of the old Walled City, which buzzed with preparations for reception of the Pope. Workmen put up yellow and white Vatican flags and the black, green and white standards of Jordan. Strolling the streets were desert troops assigned to help guard the pontiff.

A jet fighter escort, a 21-gun salute, presentation of an olive branch and release of flocks of white pigeons are arranged for Jordan's welcome to the Pope on his arrival Saturday at Amman, its capital.

Though Pope Paul is to tour holy places of both Jordan and Israel on his three-day pilgrimage, the king said he believes there is no political implication and "I can hardly see how Arab-Israeli relations could improve."

Jordan was among the Arab foes of Israel in the Palestine war of 1948, a war halted by U.N.-sponsored armistices but never ended by treaty. Many of the more than a million Palestinian Arab refugees of that conflict live in Jordan.

Asked if Jordan would accept papal mediation if it is offered, the king said this question has not arisen, but commented that the Israelis must "remedy the wrongs they've committed."

The feeling in the Arab world is that Israel, as it stands, has designs and plans to carry further aggression and expand "at our expense," Hussein said.

Union Woman to Be Aide to Johnson

JOHNSON, Tex. (AP)—President Johnson plans to name Asst. Secretary of Labor Esther Peterson to a newly created post as presidential assistant on consumer matters.

Experienced as homemaker, teacher, union official and sub-cabinet officer, Mrs. Peterson already is the highest ranking woman in government.

She and Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz have an appointment to see the President on department budget matters at the LBJ Ranch today.

It is understood President Johnson feels it is important to have someone in the White House paying individual attention to consumer problems and representing consumer interests, with the ability to get the President's ear on these matters.

The President is known to have high regard for Mrs. Peterson, 56. A native of Provo, Utah, she was named an assistant secretary of labor by President John F. Kennedy on Aug. 17, 1961. She also is vice chairman of the President's Commission on the Status of Women, which Kennedy set up in an effort to end discrimination against women.

During his 1960 presidential campaign, Kennedy promised to name an adviser on consumer matters. He never did, although he set up a Consumer Advisory Council.

High-Scoring Honor Held by Komives

NEW YORK (AP)—Howard Komives hasn't had a thing to say about it, but in the space of two weeks the Bowling Green star has lost his major college basketball scoring lead and regained it.

Komives, a 6-foot-1 back court man, has scored 35.5 points per game, good enough to lead the point race through games of Dec. 28, the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau said today.

Idle for two weeks, Komives lost the lead last week to Rick Barry of Miami, Fla. But Barry slipped this week to third with a 31.6 average. Manny Nwosime of Western Michigan is second, scoring 32 points a contest.

House Line Tied to Street Lights

MEMPHIS (AP)—The city utilities division got a call from a customer who said that come sundown each day, his lights in the house would come on automatically and the radio would start playing.

Just the reverse in the morning; nothing electrical would work all day long, he said. A division clerk said the customer's service wire had been tapped to a street light circuit which is fed electrically only during the hours of darkness.

4 Killed in Rail Freight Accident

SELIGMAN, Ariz. (AP)—Four members of a railroad maintenance crew were killed Thursday when a Santa Fe freight train ran down two handcars. Workers on a third car were not hit.

The accident occurred 30 miles west of Seligman in northern Arizona.

Yavapai County Deputy Sheriff Lee Inosce said the train, an extra, rounded a slight curve and rolled through a mountain cut only 100 yards from the impact point.

U.S. Studies Peace Offer From Russia

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
A.P. Diplomatic Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—Top U.S. officials began a careful study today of a reported new proposal from Soviet Premier Khrushchev for a worldwide pact pledging peaceful settlement of international disputes over territory.

The proposal was made by the Soviet leader in messages Thursday to President Johnson and other world leaders. Secretary of State Dean Rusk said while it was being translated into English that in its emphasis on peaceful settlement it seemed to be in line with a long established U.S. policy.

Rusk said the 21-page message would be carefully studied. President Johnson is getting a complete text delivered to him at his ranch in Texas.

The message evidently is part of the Soviet peace offensive which Khrushchev undertook with the beginning of the new year. This parallels a peace drive opened this week by Johnson with a call for breakthroughs toward East-West agreement.

Rusk told a news conference Thursday that the United States will begin work shortly with the Allied governments principally interested in German issues — West Germany, Britain and France — on possible "new initiatives" which the Western powers may put forth in future discussions with the Soviet Union.

The whole U.S. disarmament policy is also under review in a search for new ideas and revamped proposals to be made when the Geneva disarmament conference is resumed Jan. 21.

Rusk also confirmed reports that there has been some discussion of a "bonfire" disarmament proposal for destruction of various types of weapons, such as jet warplanes, which the nuclear powers might otherwise sell or give to smaller countries.

It was learned that the United States has suggested to the Soviet Union an agreement to ban the delivery of such weapons to other countries. The suggestion is understood to have been made by Rusk when he met with Soviet leaders in Moscow last summer for signing of the limited nuclear test-ban treaty.

In his session with newsmen, Rusk sounded a note of cautious optimism for progress in improving East-West relations in the months ahead, though he was unable to say specifically how negotiations might proceed.

Angry Chimp Is Checked by Female

DENVER (AP)—An angry 37-pound male chimpanzee broke open the gate of his cage at Denver on Thursday and headed for a group of spectators including women and children.

Trainer Clyde L. Smith, 51, wrestled with the ape and was bitten severely on the arm. Then Christie, 5-year-old female chimp-mate of the male chimp, rushed out the gate and leaped onto the other ape.

"She started chewing on his back end, and he had to turn away from me to get at her," said Smith.

Confused, the male chimp fled to a storage shed. An attendant killed him with a shotgun blast. Smith said Christie probably wouldn't have helped anybody else.

He and his wife raised her in their home for three years before giving her to the zoo.

Railroad Clock Ran 75 Years

ARKANSAS CITY, Kan. (AP)—The Chamber of Commerce was presented a wall clock Thursday.

C. R. Rose, superintendent of the Santa Fe Railroad's Oklahoma division, said "we'll replace it if it doesn't run another 75 years or so."

The clock, built in 1884, has been an official Santa Fe time-piece since 1888.

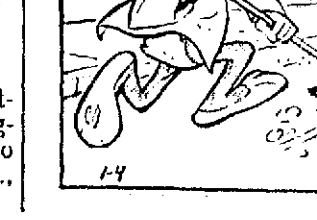

TV Canceled as Hog Has Litter

FREMONT, Ohio (AP)—Tommy Sachs, 13, had planned to spend New Year's Eve watching television at home. But because of a Poland-Yorkshire sow named Rosie, Tommy played midwife instead.

Rosie Tommy's 4-H CLUB project, chose that time to produce a litter.

Tommy had been left alone while his parents visited friends.

City Manager Petition for Pine Bluff

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP)—A Dollarway community service station operator whose property was taken into Pine Bluff in a recent annexation is circulating petitions calling for a vote on instituting city manager government.

Jack Boren said he needed 608 signatures to force the election.

Pine Bluff is governed by a mayor-council system and has never voted on city manager government.

Dollarway was taken into Pine Bluff in the annexation.

A spokesman for the Dollarway group, Jack Boren, a service station operator, said the petitioners need 608 signatures to force the election.

2 Children Die in Burning Home

SEAT PLEASANT, Md. (AP)—Two young children died Thursday night when fire swept their frame home. Their mother was across the street seeking clothing to keep them warm.

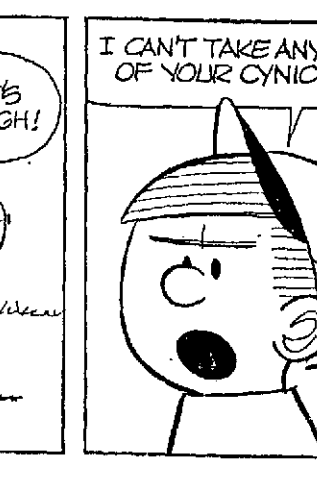

Eight brothers and sister of the victims—Mabel A. Payne, 2, and Agnes Payne, 15 months—were rescued or escaped from the one-story house in this suburban Prince Georges County community.

A defective wood burning stove caused the blaze, officials said.

ANYWAY, I KNEW YOU WEREN'T INTERESTED IN BARBECUED RABBIT!

WELL, NO, ACTUALLY, I WASN'T...

...I WAS KINDA SET ON SOME TYRANNOSAUR, BUT NOW I...

OH, I WOULDN'T BE DISCOURAGED, YOUR HIGHNESS...

...HE'LL SEE THINGS CLEARER NOWS HE HAD A CHANCE TO REORGANIZE HIS THINKING!

CAPTAIN EASY

By Leslie Turner

YOU NAGGED ME FOR YEARS TO SEE PROVINCETOWN, KATE. NOW RELAX... ENJOY YOURSELF, WHILE WE KILL TIME TILL OUR SHIP SAILS FROM BOSTON!

I AM MORE RELAXED SINCE YESTERDAY'S PAPER SAID POLICE WERE LOOKING FOR AN ELDERLY MIDGET WITH A PEG LEG, ALAN!

AH! TODAY'S NEWS IS EVEN MORE COMFORTING, PET...

...NOW THEY'RE AFTER TWO MEN THOUGHT TO BE ESCAPED ASYLUM INMATES, IN A CAR STOLEN FROM A GLASS-EYE SALESMAN!

CHIEF! THEY FOUND ALLENBY YUNK'S NAME ON THE PASSENGER LIST OF A SHIP DUE TO SAIL FROM BOSTON IN THREE DAYS!

FINE! WE'LL BE WAITING TO NAB HIM!

TIZZY

By Kate Osann

Dinner will be a little late, dear. Tizzy and her friends spent the afternoon in the kitchen frying marbles!

SWEETIE PIE

By Nadine Seltzer

He didn't exactly CATCH it—it rammed our boat and got stuck!

BLONDIE

By Chic Young

NO, KEVIN-- NOW LET MAMA TALK TO MRS. BUMSTEAD

NO, KEVIN-- NO-- OH, DEAR, WHAT IS IT HE WANTS?

HE INSISTS I COME UPSTAIRS AND SEE THE FROG-MAN

I'VE GOTTA GET THAT LOCK FIXED

PRISCILLA'S POP

By Al Vermeer

HEAR THAT, PRISCILLA?? IT'S THE "FLIGHT OF THE BUMBLE-BEE"

WOW! I'LL BE RIGHT OVER, HOLLYHOCK!

AT LAST SHE'S TAKING AN INTEREST IN CLASSICAL MUSIC!

WHERE IS HE?

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

By Merrill Blosser

THERE'S HILDA'S KID BROTHER! WHAT A HALF-PINT-PAIN-IN-THE-NECK!

HMM! IT MIGHT BE A GOOD IDEA TO TRY TO WIN HIS FRIENDSHIP!

BEN CASEY

By Neal Adams

WELL, THERE THEY GO, NAGGIE!

THINK HE'LL MAKE IT OVER IN AFRICA, BEN?

IF HE DOESN'T, I DON'T EVEN KNOW A GOOD WITCH DOCTOR I CAN REFER HIM TO!

WE'RE A BIT EARLY FOR THE AIRPORT, AREN'T WE?

OH, DID YOU FORGET? YOUR TRIP STARTS WITH INSPECTION OF MY SAFARI EQUIPMENT... AT MY PLACE.

HOP IN, HECTOR!

By Frank O'Neal

HOP IN, HECTOR! I'LL DRIVE YOU HOME!

OKAY!

NOW STOP AND BUY ME A HOT FUDGE SUNDAE OR I'LL TELL SIS WHAT A TIGHTWAD YOU ARE!

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

with Major Hoople

I'M STAYING IN TONIGHT TO READ! WHEN I WANT TO GO SEE A MOVIE YOU HAVE A HEADACHE, AND WHEN I WANT TO STAY HOME YOU HEAT UP A YEN TO GO OUT!

GET YOUR THINGS ON, YOU QUINCE! OH, I'LL PAY MY OWN WAY, IF THAT'S WHAT'S WORRYING YOU! THE PICTURE WILL DO YOU GOOD-- THE WIFE SHOOTS HER HUSBAND AND IN THE END MARRIES THE DISTRICT ATTORNEY!

TH' BATTLEING BENTLEYS AGAIN! THEY WOULDN'T AGREE, COMING DOWN IN A PARACHUTE!

THEIR CURPID USED A POISON DART.

SHORT RIBS

By Frank O'Neal

I WISH THE HUNS WOULD LAY SIEGE TO THE CASTLE AGAIN.

YOU DO??

WHY, LAST YEAR WHEN THEY WERE STORMING THE WALLS WE WENT WITHOUT FOOD FOR A MONTH!

I KNOW, I LOST FIFTY POUNDS!

THE DIE-HARDS

J. R. Williams

WELL, TH' LAST OF TH' WILD BUNCH IS TIPPED, TIED UP AN' READY TO LEAD IN T'MORRER!

KIND OF HATE TO SEE THE LAST OF OUR OLD WEST GOING SO FAST MYSELF!

SO DOES OL' STIFFY! HE RODE ON-- COULDN'T BEAR TO SEE IT, I RECKON!

All One Gives to God

SOURCE of VALUES

We can get them from The Old Book—values a-plenty to make the New Year really new. Of course the months, the weeks, the hours are much like the old ones.

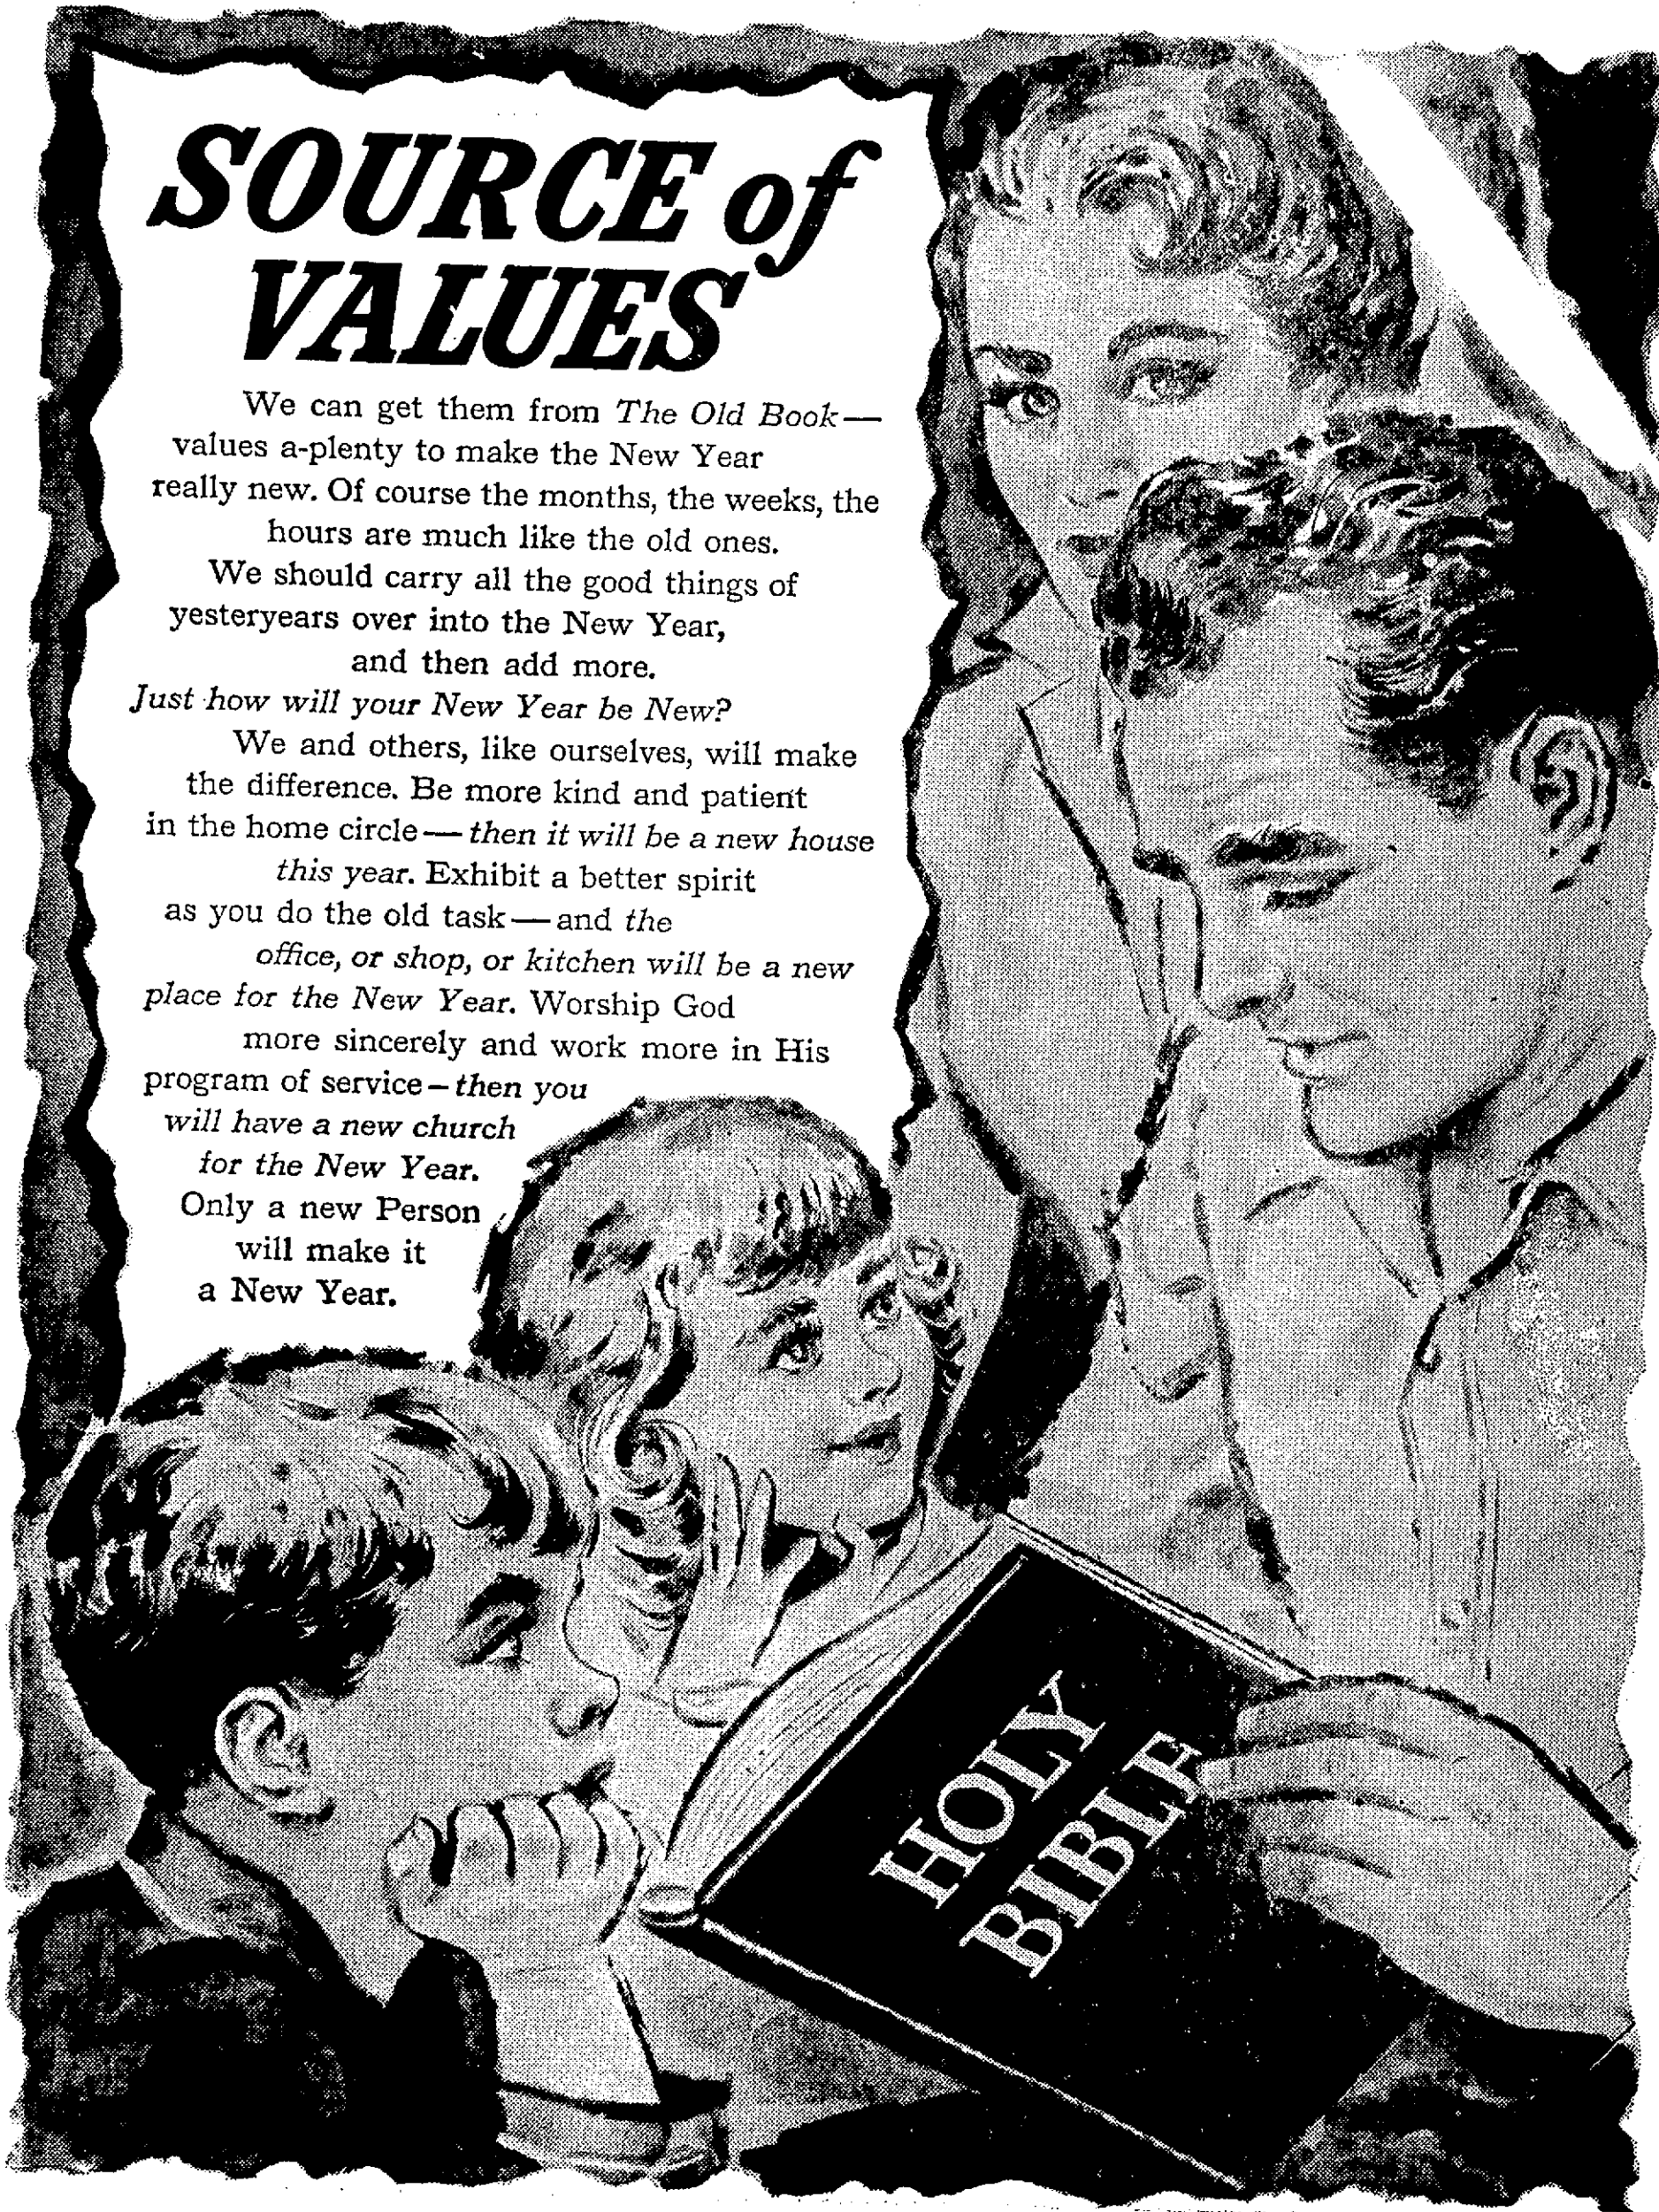

We should carry all the good things of yesteryears over into the New Year, and then add more.

Just how will your New Year be New?

We and others, like ourselves, will make the difference. Be more kind and patient in the home circle—then it will be a new house this year. Exhibit a better spirit as you do the old task—and the office, or shop, or kitchen will be a new place for the New Year. Worship God more sincerely and work more in His program of service—then you will have a new church for the New Year.

Only a new Person will make it a New Year.

It is Paid For By Frims Who Hope To Measure Their Reward In Greater Numbers Of People Attending Church.

THE CHURCHES OF THIS COMMUNITY ARE THE ONLY INSTITUTIONS WHICH HAVE AS THEIR MAIN FUNCTION, THE TRANSFORMING OF HUMAN LIVES. THEY ARE THE SIGN BOARDS POINTING THE WAY TO GOD.

Sponsors of these messages urge faithful church support. Through these pages the appeal is for all men to stand up and be counted . . . to combat Communism on all fronts . . . to be faithful to God.

OUR PASTORS ARE GOD'S SERVANTS WHO CALL THE SIGNALS AGAINST THE ORGANIZED FORCES OF EVIL. THEY INVITE YOU TO ENLIST ON THE SIDE FOR GOD . . .

The Ninety and Nine Were Safe; -- But One!?
